

Bob Ryley
Senior Vice President, Exhibition Sales
GES

Bob has 32 years of industry experience, and has spent 30 years with GES. He has held positions of increasing responsibility to include Account Manager, Sales Manager, Director of Operations, and Senior Vice President of Sales. Bob manages a limited number of client relationships for GES that include the International Manufacturing Technology Show, The Chicago Auto Show and the American College of Surgeons. He also manages a sales and account management staff of eight, and more recently helped launch a management training program for GES. Bob is currently president elect for ESCA, the Exhibition Services & Contractors Association.