

Christopher Wehking, CMP – Chief Program Officer, American Society of Anesthesiologists (ASA)

As Chief Program Officer for the American Society of Anesthesiologists (ASA), Chris oversees the Member Services, Meetings and Exhibits and Corporate Development Departments, and Subspecialty and International Relations. Chris leads ASA programs, meetings and the Annual Scientific Meeting into a heightened level of professionalism, global appeal, and recognition within the World of Anesthesiology. Chris held similar positions with the American Society of Plastic Surgeons and the American Hardware Manufacturers Association, leading and managing their national and international expositions and meetings. Chris Wehking is highly respected in the not-for-profit association community and global event management and hospitality industry for his experience, leadership and continued support. He is Past Chair of the Professional Convention Management Association (PCMA) and is a current Trustee for the PCMA Education Foundation. He also serves on the DePaul University Driehaus College of Business School of Hospitality Leadership Advisory Council.